

Cherish Wedding Invitations Font Options

Which font style is right for your invitations?

You have many options when it comes to choosing the right font style for your wedding stationery. The best font is the one that matches the style of your wedding. Formal wedding invitations generally feature a fancier script, such as Edwardian, while less formal wedding invitations may feature handwriting or more straight forward fonts.

You may choose to combine two fonts to make your invitation more striking. In many of our examples you will see the names of the bride and groom in a fancy script and the remaining text in a different but complementary font type.

The font size will depend on the type of font selected and the invitation style selected. Your designer will work directly with you to select the font size that is perfect for the image you wish to convey.
